

America's Best Beach Bars

8 of 13

The Wayfarer, Cannon Beach, OR

The Scene: Restored original portholes and light fixtures and a more rustic look are the result of a recent $300,000 tune-up of this charming spot on the Northern Oregon Coast. From the glass-enclosed Lounge or the outside summer deck a few feet above the beach, you can hear the crashing surf and gape at Haystack Rock, a 235-foot-tall iconic basalt monolith. The restaurant itself is a special occasion kind of place serving some of the Pacific Northwest's freshest seafood, but the atmosphere is unfussy.

Signature Drink: The Tolovana Fizz (named after the nearby park): house-infused strawberry vodka, Triple Sec, and a splash of strawberry purée topped with champagne, $8.50.

Courtesy of Martin Hospitality

Enter NOW for a chance to win a DREAM VACATION

8 of 13

You might also like...

America's Dirtiest Cities

3 Fabulous Family Getaways

Most Unusual Hotels in the World

Vacationist Hotel Deals: Memorial Day in Mexico